THE TIMES-VIRGINIAN

Sir

With reference to a one half mile section of highway 727, 5 miles south of Appomattox: This section of road is locally referred to as "Devil's Lane" because of the old proverb.

75% of all types of vehicles, travel this properly marked highway, making 60 to 80 MPH in a 45 MPH zone.

With all things considered, past wrecks, posted signs, etc., this constitutes wreckless driving and should be the justified reason for taking the driver's license away from all offenders.

This section of 727 covers two intersections of highway 644.

All past complaints have been ineffective. How long are the present conditions going to be allowed to exist? Who or what is to blame for this horrible condition!

For a verification or check on these statements and remarks, personally observe the traffic in section mentioned.

Dear Sir:

Most Americans are unaware that nearly every government agency in Washington, D.C. to protect America against subversion and terrism has been closed down!

The Attorney General and Justice Departments's List (Fblet) ron. Subversive and Terrorist organizations has been destroyed! (Shredded). The C.I.A. and F.B.I. Department and their personel have been attacked, slandered, demoralized by government officials who have something to hide from the American people. We have Gutless People in our government who stand by and allow these important departments to be ransacked, and their personel to be prosecuted because, "They were only doing their duty in protecting the American people from within and outside of the United States.

Dear Sir:

A PLAY OF WORDS

Vice President Walter Mondale warned South Africa recently that the United States' relations with it will change drastically unless it ends radical segregation and provides for the full and equal political participation of all South Africans. It is obvious that the government of South Africa is under the pressure of the United States to change its ways.

Therefore, informed persons feel that they should ask the question -- why does not Vice President Mondale go to Moscow and ask the government of the Soviet Union to restore the independence of the three Baltic States, Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia? Since the Congress passed a concurrent resolution in 1966, which strongly condemned the genocide committed by the authorities of the Soviet Union in those three Baltic States, President Jimmy Carter should likewise condemn the genocide and other crimes against humanity committed by the Soviet Union in the Baltic States.

Since the Baltic States are under the Russian colonial rule and the illegal Communist minority regimes rule in Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Rominia, and other Eastern European countries, maintained only by the bayonets of the troops of the Soviet Union, President Carter's alleged strong commitment to human rights throughout the world is only an opportunistic play of words and cliche forms, without any substance. Many informed persons consider the attitude of President Carter concerning South Africa and Eastern Europe hypocrisy or obscurantism.

Sincerely yours,
Dr. Alexander V. Berkis
Professor of History

Hand-made quilt is only one of many items to be auctioned at St. Anne's Church Annual Bazaar to be held on October 8 at the Church. Auction will take place during the lasagne dinner at 6:30 p.m. and the public is invited to attend.

St. Anne's Bazaar - October 8

The St. Anne's Episcopal Church Annual Bazaar will be held in conjunction with the historic Railroad Festival this year.

A "Bazaar Booth" will be located on Main Street featuring samples of items on sale at the church. Sales will begin at 11 a.m. on October 8 and will continue until a delicious lasagne dinner will be served from 5 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. that evening.

During the dinner hour, at 6:30 p.m., the auction sale will be held with numerous valuable items to be auctioned off. An added feature this year will be a "postal auction" with packages from all over the country and foriegn countries being sold. The famous brunswick stew will be sold by the quart this year, and also many new and different craft items, Christmas decorations, etc., will be available.

"Ye Olde Pickle and Pastry Shoppe" will be featured again along with a "flea market" and "boutique". These separate "shoppes" will be located in the new addition to St. Anne's on Oakleigh Avenue. Plenty of parking will be available in the new parking lot at the rear of the church.

"After "sampling our samples" at historic railroad day, make a trip over to St. Anne's Church for a gala event.

U.D.C. Buffet Dinner

"Good Citizenship, Our Top Priority" was the subject of G. Hunter Jones Jr., last Thursday evening when he was guest speaker at the initial 1977-78 meeting of the Appomattox Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Mrs. T. M. Cunningham, Chapter President, presided over the meeting and Mrs. Lucille C. Ferrell introduced the speaker.

Among the 40 guests and members who enjoyed the buffet at The John Mosby Inn was Mrs. Jones.

Mr. Jones brought out many interesting facts relative to his subject. "In these United States we do have a success story to tell. We have many things for which we can be thankful. Or accomplishments have not been exceeded by anyone. All of this has been made possible because of our willingness to practice good citizenship through being involved in the affairs around us. We, as people, have been enthusiastic about those involvements to the extent that all of our worthwhile undertakings have accomplished their purpose. Our willingness to work, coupled with involvement, is a discipline of meekness, and it leads Christians to look into their hearts, and see their own sins and short comings. If we think about the hard times Jesus had, our troubles seem small. It helps us to walk closer to Jesus, and a nearer relationship with our suffering Lord.

The greatest words of our Lord's gracious encouragement are in his commandments, where he tells us to "Fear Not", and "Lo I will be with you always". With this in mind I ask that you reach out to Jesus. Just let him come into your heart and take away all your fears. Let Him give you rest in your hearts, and Peace in your Soul. We must take the first step, and He will fill all our needs. We must move as he did. Christ did not just plan and talk, about cleaning out the temple, He moved out and got the job done,

Let's stop talking and planning, and move out and do something for Him.

The Bible Speaks

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

LOVE, LTD.

Lesson for September 25, 1977

Background Scripture:
Luke 6:27-36; Philemon.
Devotional Reading:
Matthew 5:38-48.

Rev. Althouse

In the United States we use the designation, "incorporated," or Inc. While in Great Britain and those parts of the world influenced by British culture and commerce, the term "Limited," or Ltd. is used. The concept behind the terms is that the liability of the shareholders is limited to the extent of the shares they hold. Their responsibility goes only so far.

Love your enemies

It often seems to me that many Christians react in much the same way to the love ethic of Jesus Christ: they acknowledge the command to love one another, but only within certain narrow limits. Their love goes only so far.

Of course Jesus himself realized that tendency in human nature. In the Sermon on the Plain he calls people to discard the limitations with which they surround their experience of giving and receiving love. In fact, for most of us, that experience may be so limited that what we experience hardly deserves the name of love.

For example, says Jesus, it is no great achievement to love someone who loves us in return. When we love on the basis of getting back an equal amount of what we have given, or when we think only in terms of giving to the degree that we have first received, we are missing out on the real meaning of love. "If you love those who love you," he says, "what credit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them" (6:32). The best kinds of relationships are those in which we are willing to give without thought of what we are receiving. Isn't that what the cross was all about?

The Pastor Speaks

Matt: 10:37-40

He who loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me; and he who loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me; 38. and he who does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me. 39. He who finds his life will lose it, and he who loses his life for my sake will find it. 40. "He who receives you receives me, and he who receives me receives him who sent me." Matt: 10:37-40 RSV.

Jesus is our example our master our Lord. In his Divine power in all of His Holiness in his perfect love, in spite of all this he was despised and rejected of men, and people still are rejecting him now, today! Yes and His people (Christians) can expect the very same treatment. We are his disciples and servants. Then the great aim of our life, should be to be like him.

We, as Christians, must not look for the high places of life, when He endured the cross. We must not look for praise, when he was so cruelly insulted. Yes and when we do our best deeds, we can expect them to be misrepresented. I don't care how hard you try to do a good job, there will always be someone to commend you for it. It makes no difference if it's your fault or not, you will be blamed for doing it wrong, by some. In this life we know, that every one else knows more about your intent than do you. Men said that the Lord's miracle of love was of Satan. It is so hard to take at times, but it's good for Christians to be blamed, yes even despised and slandered. It is a discipline of meekness, and it leads Christians to look into their hearts, and see their own sins and short comings. If we think about the hard times Jesus had, our troubles seem small. It helps us to walk closer to Jesus, and a nearer relationship with our suffering Lord.

The greatest words of our Lord's gracious encouragement are in his commandments, where he tells us to "Fear Not", and "Lo I will be with you always". With this in mind I ask that you reach out to Jesus. Just let him come into your heart and take away all your fears. Let Him give you rest in your hearts, and Peace in your Soul. We must take the first step, and He will fill all our needs. We must move as he did. Christ did not just plan and talk, about cleaning out the temple, He moved out and got the job done,

Let's stop talking and planning, and move out and do something for Him.

Enlarging the circle

Furthermore, our circle of loving is much too narrow. If we are truly to know the power of love, we must learn to love our enemies too: "...do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, pray for those who abuse you" (6:28).

It is hard for me to read these words of our Lord, for they are continually a searing judgement both upon my own life and upon the church. It is only with rare exceptions that we have come even close to experiencing this kind of love. Most of us congratulate ourselves when we love our own families, a few friends and have a generally cordial regard for a limited circle of others. Many deny Christ's command to love their enemies, declaring it utterly unrealistic. Beyond that, there is so much evident hostility and outright hatred in our society, even among his followers.

Isn't it tragic that we Christians, for all our fine churches, for all our doctrines, liturgies, and traditions, still, very largely, eke out a threadbare existance on an experience of a limited love that bears little resemblance to the dynamic power that gave birth to the Gospel?

Steers topped out at 46.25 and heifers at 36.50.

John Morrell tells me that he has a field of volunteer oats that are being seriously affected by all armyworms. This further identifies the problem that was discussed in the column last week of early seeded grain.

We've had a number of calls asking when and how much seed to use per acre. Here they are:

Wheat - Oct. 1 - Nov. 1
Rate 1 to 1.5 bu.
Barley - Sept. 15-Oct. 15
Rate 1.5 to 2.0 bu.
Oats - Sept. 20-Oct. 15
Rate 2.0 - 2.5 bu.
*Rye-Oct 1 - Nov. 15
Rate 1.0 to 1.5 bu.

*Increase rate of planting by ½ bushel per acre and plant slightly earlier if rye is seeded for grazing.

The Farmville Yearling Sale originally scheduled for Sept. 21 has been cancelled.

Preliminary research with starter fertilizer for small grains shows significant yield increases.

Starter fertilizer is fertilizer that is applied through the drill in contact or close to the seed. As the seed germinates, the fertilizer is readily available to the young seedling.

Research from several sources has shown a yield increase of 8 to 10 percent by application of about 20 pounds each of N,P2,05 and K20 through the drill in addition to normal fertilization. When the soil tested VH in phosphorus, the test demonstration in 1976-77 showed no growth or yield response to starter fertilizer. When the soil phosphorus was less than VH a starter fertilizer increased growth and yield of wheat.

In six wheat test demonstrations, three tested VH in phosphorus and there was no yield increase. The other three tested high in phosphorus and had an average yield increase of 10.6 bushels of wheat per acre.

Some Appomattox growers who have low phosphorus soil levels may like to try using a starter fertilizer on a portion of their wheat crop this year.
